Diary: All aboard the Zen Bus

News by Estates Gazette

09 May 2025

Diary isn't just here for the laughs, we also like to celebrate the worthy side of the property industry – especially when there is a cool vehicle involved. So well done to Delancey Real Estate for its Mental Health Awareness Week initiative, in partnership with The Zen Project, featuring a bright yellow American school bus travelling the UK as a mobile sanctuary for mental health. The Zen Bus will visit a number of Delancey's schemes next week, offering mindfulness, meditation, wellness and soundbath sessions for local communities – basically seeking to create "calm amongst the chaos". That's a bus well worth hailing.

Deals don't wait. Neither should you.
